I MMERGE YOURSELF IN AMERICA’S SPIRIT IN THE CITY WHERE IT ALL BEGAN—with iconic landmarks that played a pivotal role in the establishment of America—including Independence Hall, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and the building where the Declaration of Independence and U.S. Constitution were debated and adopted.

While we are known worldwide for our rich history, Philadelphia has accumulated significant accolades for our walkable downtown, distinct neighborhoods, outstanding restaurants, exceptional arts and culture, outdoor life, tax-free shopping on clothing and shoes, and much more. Use this guide for suggestions on what to explore in the first World Heritage City in the U.S.

Enjoy your stay!

UPCOMING EXHIBITS

BARNES FOUNDATION
1 Silent Secret Waterfalls: The Barnes Series
Now–Nov. 17, 2019
Home to one of the world’s greatest collections of Impressionist, post-Impressionist and modern European paintings, the Barnes Foundation welcomes 11 new, seven-foot-tall paintings by American artist Pat Steir, which she created for the museum—the first artist to make site-specific paintings for the Barnes since Matisse’s The Dance II. It will be the first installation presented in the Annenberg Court.

PHILADELPHIA MUSEUM OF ART
4 The Impressionist’s Eye
April 16—Aug. 18, 2019
In addition to iconic oil paintings, Impressionists also worked in mediums ranging from canvas to watercolors to bronze as they changed the course of visual art. This show offers a new perspective on influential artists like Claude Monet, Mary Cassatt and post-Impressionist Vincent van Gogh by bringing together Impressionist sculpture, paintings and works on paper. philamuseum.org

AMERICAN PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY
2 Mapping a Nation: Shaping the Early American Republic
April 12–Dec. 29, 2019
Founded in 1743 by Ben Franklin, the oldest learned society in the U.S. draws from its extensive collection for this exhibit, which explores how early American maps were used to form physical, political and ideological boundaries of the new nation and how mapmakers acted as political agents. Highlights include a 1757 copy of the John Mitchell map of the British Empire in North America, manuscript maps from the American Revolution and George Washington’s copy of a 1792 map of Washington D.C. amphilsoc.org

PENNSYLVANIA ACADEMY OF THE FINE ARTS
5 From the Schuylkill to the Hudson: Landscapes of the Early American Republic
June 28–Dec. 29, 2019
This first-of-its-kind exhibit—at the first art museum and school of fine arts in the country—explores how 18th- and 19th-century landscape painting in Philadelphia, particularly representations of waterways like the Schuylkill and the Delaware rivers, influenced Thomas Cole, the Hudson River School and the growth of American landscape painting. pafa.org

ACADEMY OF THE NATURAL SCIENCES OF DREXEL UNIVERSITY
6 Dinosaurs Around the World
June 30, 2019–Jan. 20, 2020
Dinosaurs Around the World—on display at the oldest natural science institution in the Americas—features more than a dozen animatronic dinosaurs. The exhibit explores how continental drift, sea level changes and volcanos took various dinosaurs to every corner of the globe. ansp.org

FRANKLIN INSTITUTE
3 Marvel: Universe of Super Heroes
April 13–Sept. 2
The first and largest exhibition ever to trace the histories of favorite Marvel characters—including Black Panther, Spider-Man and Doctor Strange—provides immersive comic-book and cinematic environments, like Tony Stark’s lab, and showcases some of the publisher’s most iconic pages, costumes and props. fi.edu

INDEPENDENCE VISITOR CENTER ENHANCEMENTS

As the official visitor center of greater Philadelphia and gateway to Independence National Historical Park, the Independence Visitor Center provides a welcoming first impression to 2.5 million visitors each year. To provide an informative, interactive and 21st-century orientation experience, the Visitor Center underwent a $15 million renovation, which will be complete just in time for summer 2019. Renovations and upgrades include:

- A 42-foot, interactive digital wall that displays content visitors can explore via touchscreen;
- The first HERSHEY’S Kitchens location in Philadelphia, featuring both savory and sweet menu items like made-to-order s’mores;
- An 8-minute free film featuring sites and attractions played daily in an open-walled theater;
- A mezzanine-level, outdoor terrace with unparalleled views of Independence Mall for capturing the perfect selfie;
- The official gift shop of Philadelphia, featuring iconic souvenirs like the LOVE statue and Rocky memorabilia;
- An exhibit space and digital screens featuring Independence National Historical Park;
- And environmentally friendly, accessible public restrooms, including a dedicated caregiver room.
NEW VENUE

MEET THE MET

Occupying the former Philadelphia Metropolitan Opera House on North Broad Street, the Met Philadelphia has transformed from the 1908 Oscar Hammerstein-designed building into a modern performance venue. Over the years, the opulent space has served many purposes beyond its original—including a movie theater, sporting center, vocational school, gospel concert hall and finally a church. The historic building received a $56 million facelift and is now the city’s largest performance stage and theatrical auditorium. The theater reopened in December 2018 and is managed by Live Nation.

CURRENCY & CULTURE

Since 1976, the Please Touch Museum has been engaging and educating children with innovative and interactive exhibits. Joining favorites like Alice in Wonderland, River Adventures and Imagination Playground is the award-winning museum’s newest permanent exhibit Cents & Sensibility. The finance-focused center is presented by PNC Bank and includes a Money Maze, Dollar and Cents Scale and Investment Plinko, all to help little ones better understand saving and spending. Also at the museum through Sept. 2, 2019, is the temporary exhibit America to Zanzibar: Muslim Cultures Near and Far, which celebrates the diversity in modern and historic Muslim communities through art, technology and an imaginative global marketplace.

As a lifelong Philadelphian, what do you like best about the city?
A. Mostly, the people who help me cheer on the Flyers every day.

When Flyers fans are coming to town, what Philadelphia attractions do you recommend?
A. 1. Can’t visit the city without the iconic horse and carriage rides on a nice spring Saturday afternoon.
   2. Obviously the Wells Fargo Center. It’s the best place in the city, and I’m petitioning for it to become the 8th Wonder of the World. So if anyone here has a contact with VisitWorld that would be greatly appreciated.

When looking to tap into Philadelphia’s cultural side, where do you go?
A. I’m a big jazz scene guy. I love checking out the open mics with my kazoo.

You claim to have been around for longer than we know. What are some of your favorite historical locations, and did you have some historical involvement with them that you’d like to share?
A. You have to check out Elfreth’s Alley. I love those cobblestones, and the craziest part—they have real life people in the houses as if they actually live there! So talented. Takes my breath away.

In the off-season, where can we catch you and your friends hanging out and relaxing?
A. Thinking of booking a cruise or two for the summer. What are the summer destinations for the Spirit of Philadelphia looking like [along the Delaware River]?

NOTORIOUS RBG

THE FIRST-EVER MUSEUM RETROSPECTIVE ON THE LIFE OF Ruth Bader Ginsburg—the beloved 86-year-old Supreme Court Justice—will make its East Coast debut at the NATIONAL MUSEUM OF AMERICAN JEWISH HISTORY in October 2019, giving visitors a chance to find out why the first Jewish woman appointed to the Supreme Court inspires such devotion. Based on the New York Times best-selling book of the same name, the Notorious RBG: The Life and Times of Ruth Bader Ginsburg exhibition was co-created by the book’s authors—Shana Knizhnik, who coined Ginsburg’s nickname, “RBG,” and Irin Carmon—to show how a focused and hard-working student in the ’50s became a trailblazing constitutional lawyer in the ’70s and a beloved judge in the 21st century. The RBG exhibit follows Sarah Berman’s Closet, an intimate exploration of one woman’s 20th-century immigration story, April 5 - Sept 1. nmajh.org

WATER MUSIC

One of the original five public squares built by Pennsylvania founder William Penn, FRANKLIN SQUARE is a popular spot for families, with its sprawling playground, Philadelphia-themed mini golf course and fast-casual dining spot SquareBurger. Debuting this summer is a new light and music show at the square’s iconic fountain, with waterworks, LED lighting and five water effects (think geysers and air-powered nozzles). The free shows will run day and night. historicphiladelphia.org

ROOMS WITH A VIEW

ROWNING THE NEW COMCAST TECHNOLOGY CENTER—THE TALLEST building in Philadelphia—is the new FOUR SEASONS HOTEL PHILADELPHIA, slated to open in 2019. One of the tallest hotels in the U.S., it will have 219 guest rooms, including 39 suites, with a luxury spa and indoor infinity pool on the 57th floor and an express glass elevator that will bring guests directly to the property. Also on-site are restaurants from James Beard Award-winner Greg Vernick and Michelin-starred chef Jean-Georges Vongerichten, whose fine-dining spot on the 59th and 60th floor will include floor-to-ceiling windows and panoramic city views. Designed by legendary architect Norman Foster, the CTC has a five-story winter garden and 120-foot illuminated lantern that sits atop the building. fourseasons.com/philadelphia
NEW AT THE NATIONAL CONSTITUTION CENTER

The only museum in the country dedicated to the groundbreaking U.S. document, the National Constitution Center welcomes a new permanent exhibit on May 9: Civil War and Reconstruction: The Battle for Freedom and Equality. The first exhibit in the country devoted to exploring the constitutional debates from this turbulent era of American history features:

- Original copies of the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments;
- Dred Scott’s signed petition for freedom;
- A fragment of the flag that Abraham Lincoln raised at Independence Hall in 1861;
- Interactive elements that delve into the drafting of each of the three Reconstruction Amendments;
- A ballot box marked “colored” from Virginia’s first statewide election that allowed black men to vote in 1867, and more.

Starting on June 19 (Juneteenth—the holiday that commemorates the emancipation of enslaved African Americans in the Confederacy), visitors can also experience FOURTEEN, an emotional theatrical performance with dramatic readings that are focused on the Reconstruction era and the ratification of the 14th Amendment.

Civil War and Reconstruction joins the Constitution Center’s other popular permanent exhibits, including The Story of We the People and Signers’ Hall, as well as engaging temporary programs like Hamilton: The Constitutional Clashes That Shaped a Nation, which explores the debates and clashes between Alexander Hamilton and his rivals that helped form the United States, on display through Dec. 31, 2019.

VISIT THE HISTORIC MILE Independence National Historical Park (nps.gov/inde), nicknamed “America’s most historic square mile,” preserves several important sites associated with the founding of the United States and the American Revolution.

Free, timed tickets to Independence Hall—where the Declaration of Independence and U.S. Constitution were both debated and signed—are available at the Independence Visitor Center. Visit The President’s House (site of the nation’s first White House from 1790 to 1800) to see the Freedom and Slavery in the Making of a New Nation exhibit. An iconic symbol of freedom, the Liberty Bell is on display in the Liberty Bell Center. Tickets are not required and access is granted 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., every day. Entrance is on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Experience making money at the source with a free, self-guided tour of the United States Mint (usmint.gov/mint_tours). Tours include a view of coining operations from 40 feet above the factory floor. Reservations are not required for this 45-minute tour, available to the public Monday through Friday.

The National Museum of American Jewish History (nmajh.org) illuminates the trials, stories and triumphs of Jewish immigrants throughout history. Visitors are able to experience the first floor at no cost, including the “Only in America Gallery” and the “Hall of Fame,” which celebrates remarkable achievements by 18 American Jews, including Albert Einstein and Estée Lauder.

ENJOY THE ARTS The Kimmel Center for the Performing Arts (kimmelcenter.org) offers Free at the Kimmel indoor and outdoor concerts and workshops. The renowned Curtis Institute of Music (curtis.edu) conservatory has free admission to their student recital series.

Follow in the steps of Rocky Balboa with a morning jog up the Rocky Steps to the Philadelphia Museum of Art (philamuseum.org)—and don’t forget to take your photo with Rocky’s statue once you’ve cooled down. “Pay what you wish” at the museum on the first Sunday of every month and every Wednesday from 5 to 8:45 p.m. Free admission is also extended at The Barnes Foundation (barnesfoundation.org) the first Sunday of the month.

Visit the Fabric Workshop & Museum (fabricworkshopandmuseum.org), a free, contemporary art museum featuring work in fabrics and other materials. Browse University of Pennsylvania’s Institute of Contemporary Art (icaphila.org), which has developed an international reputation as a preeminent venue for contemporary art and culture.

EXPLOR SCIENCE ATTRACTIONS The Science History Institute (sciencehistory.org) holds an outstanding collection of chemistry-related objects, artwork, photographs and books, illustrating the impact chemistry and chemistry engineering have had on the modern world. Founded in 1855, the Wagner Free Institute of Science (wagnerfreeinstitute.org) is dedicated to providing free public education in science with the oldest program devoted to free adult education in the United States. The National Historic Landmark building houses more than 100,000 natural history specimens including fossils, shells, minerals and mounted animal skeletons and skins displayed in original wood and glass cabinets.

WONDERFUL WALKS Premier shopping, dining, arts, entertainment and famous historic sites are all within steps of Center City hotels. Color-coded directional signs will tell you what district you’re in and point you toward area attractions. IN THE NEIGHBORHOODS

CONVENTION CENTER DISTRICT / CHINATOWN

Anchored by the Pennsylvania Convention Center and Reading Terminal Market, this bustling district is also home to Chinatown and the authentic Friendship Gate, a gift from Philadelphia’s sister city, Tianjin, China.

SEE: Snap a selfie in front of Robert Indiana’s famous LOVE statue in LOVE PARK, then head over to the majestic MASONIC LIBRARY AND MUSEUM OF PENNSYLVANIA (pamasonictemple.org), which offers a vast collection of artwork, artifacts and texts pertaining to the founding fathers and freemasonry. The impressive exterior is rivaled only by the ornate details and intricate architecture inside this imposing building.

DO: Delve further into the city’s architectural history and heritage with a CENTER FOR ARCHITECTURE AND DESIGN (philadephiaacfa.org) expert-led walking tour. After, stop at MACY’S (macys.com), located in the landmark Wanamaker building, for some retail therapy. In addition to great shopping, this architectural gem is known for its impressive Grand Court, bronze bald eagle statue and restored 1904 organ (one of the largest in the world).

DINE: Enjoy authentic Chinese dishes at SANG KEE PEKING DUCK HOUSE (sangkeechinatown.com), which has been making its famous Hong Kong-style Peking Duck since 1980. At award-winning OSTERIA (osteriaphilly.com), refined Italian dishes and fine wines are served in a modern industrial setting with an open kitchen.

OLD CITY / SOCIETY HILL / WATERFRONT

This historic neighborhood is a must-visit for its iconic colonial sites. Enjoy First Friday as dozens of hip art galleries and cool boutiques open their doors on the first Friday of the month in Old City.

SEE: The only museum in the country dedicated to the colonists’ struggle for independence, the MUSEUM OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION (amrevmuseum.org) showcases original artwork and artifacts from the period plus interactive exhibits that trace the seeds of the war to its impact today. PSST: On display is George Washington’s actual war tent. Visit the AFRICAN AMERICAN MUSEUM IN PHILADELPHIA (aampmuseum.org) to see impactful exhibits like Audacious Freedom: African Americans in Philadelphia 1776-1876, which features a narrated, interactive timeline spanning 100 years and a hands-on children’s corner.

DO: The NATIONAL LIBERTY MUSEUM (libertymuseum.org) explores themes of diversity and inclusion, civic engagement and leadership. Highlights include a replica of Nelson Mandela’s jail cell and an exhibit honoring the heroes of 9/11. Tucked between Market and Chestnut streets, the BENJAMIN FRANKLIN MUSEUM and FRANKLIN COURT (nps.gov/inde) is the former home of the Philadelphia statesman, author, printer, inventor and postmaster.

DINE: Eat in style on the MOSHULU (moshulu.com), a Tall Ship tethered to the shore at the Delaware River waterfront. It’s the largest and oldest square-rigged sailing vessel still afloat. Known for its Italian crudo and airy Mediterranean vibe, POSITANO COAST (positanocoast.net) also offers an extensive wine list and seasonal Italian dishes.
PARKWAY MUSEUMS DISTRICT

Located around the magnificent Museum Mile on the Benjamin Franklin Parkway, this district is your destination for outstanding museums and plenty of Insta-worthy sights—including the Rocky Steps and Rocky Statue just outside the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

SEE: The Rodin Museum (rodinmuseum.org) boasts one of the largest collections of famed sculptor Auguste Rodin’s work outside Paris. The Thinker greets you outside the entrance. For an unconventional history lesson, tour Eastern State Penitentiary (easternstate.org). Once the most expensive and famous prisons in the world, it housed notorious inmates like gangster Al Capone, whose cell you can view on the tour. PSST: Actor Steve Buscemi narrates the audio tour.

DO: Stroll along a famous Philadelphia site, Boathouse Row (boathouserow.org), which is aglow with thousands of twinkling lights at night. The path is part of the Schuylkill River Trail (schuylkillrivertrail.com), a recreational trail that runs from Philadelphia to Valley Forge National Historical Park and beyond, perfect for running, inline skating, biking and other activities. An ideal spot for skyline photos while on the trail is the Schuylkill Banks Boardwalk, a 2,000-foot-long concrete pathway that stretches from Locust Street to the South Street Bridge.

DINE: Indulge in pizza with pizzazz at Pizzeria Vetri (pizzeriavetri.com). With countless options on the menu, it’s easy to find pies to satisfy the whole crew. For traditional bar food with an Irish twist, head to Con Murphy’s (conmurphyspub.com) for shareable favorites like loaded nachos and wings as well as hearty entrees like Guinness beef stew and fish and chips.

RITTENHOUSE SQUARE

Located in the heart of Center City, Rittenhouse Square is known for its green spaces, upscale shopping, charming brownstones and alfresco dining.

SEE: For panoramic views of the city, venture up to One Liberty Observation Deck (phillyfromthetop.com) on the 57th floor of the skyscraper. In addition to camera-worthy sights, you can enjoy interactive exhibits detailing noteworthy moments in Philadelphia history. The Mütter Museum (muttermuseum.org) displays fascinating scientific discoveries about the human body, with unique specimens, models and instruments, including a 139-skull display and pieces of Albert Einstein’s brain.

DO: Indulge in retail therapy—clothes and shoes are tax-free—at Rittenhouse Row (rittenhouserow.org), where you’ll find chic boutiques alongside national retailers. Table tennis takes center stage at Spin Philadelphia, A Ping Pong Social Club (wearespin.com). The hip, industrial space has 16 Olympic-grade ping pong tables, two full bars and a kitchen.

DINE: Chefs Michael Solomonov and Yehuda Sichel found inspiration in the Jewish diaspora for their retro-style eatery Abe Fisher (abefisherphilly.com)—meaning chicken liver mousse shares the menu with veal schnitzel tacos and Hungarian duck. New American fare is on the menu at Pub & Kitchen (thepubandkitchen.com), where you’ll find a rotating selection of small plates, filling entrees and a signature burger.

WASHINGTON SQUARE/ GAYBORHOOD/MIDTOWN VILLAGE

Lively dining spots and vibrant nightlife fill this quaint historic neighborhood. Stroll through tree-lined Washington Square Park, or explore the charming cobblestone streets for some of Philadelphia's most photogenic views.

SEE: Take in a show at the WALNUT STREET THEATRE (walnutstreettheatre.org), America's oldest theater. Since 1809, the National Historic Landmark has produced popular, top-quality stage productions. The venue also caters to families with its well-curated series for kids.

DO: In the evening, check out some of the neighborhood's most festive spots. Unwind at TIKI (tikiphilly.com) with classic and modern tropical drinks like the Mai Tai, Singapore Sling and Zombie. PSST: It has a rooftop bar.

As Philadelphia's oldest Irish pub, MCGILLIN'S OLD ALE HOUSE (mcgillins.com) features a roaring fireplace, high-beamed ceilings and a unique collection of innkeepers' licenses from 1871 on, all displayed above an antique mahogany bar.

DINE: Located in the historic Curtis Center, P.J. CLARKE'S (pjclarkes.com) is a go-to for its large raw bar, happy hour specials and famous burgers. Head to VALANNI (valanni.com), for Mediterranean and Latin cuisine, like kabobs, empanadas and pork belly Cuban sliders plus seasonal craft cocktails.

SOUTH PHILADELPHIA

Known for its easy access to major sporting arenas, the area is also a hit thanks to its multicultural and foodie attractions.

SEE: Started by Italian immigrants in the late 1880s, the bustling ITALIAN MARKET (italianmarketphilly.org) on 9th Street specializes in fresh fish, meat, fruit, cheese, baked goods and vegetables. After, wander through the eclectic SOUTH STREET HEADHOUSE DISTRICT (southstreet.com) to explore the many shops and attractions, including Philadelphia's Magic Gardens, an immersive outdoor and indoor mosaic installation.

DO: For home run entertainment, catch the PHILADELPHIA PHILLIES (phillies.com) in action at CITIZENS BANK PARK. With the city skyline as its backdrop, the ballpark offers great sightlines and plenty of Philadelphia-inspired concessions, from hoagies and cheesesteaks to crab fries. No ticket? No problem. Watch the Phillies and other teams play on a 32-foot HD TV at XFINITY LIVE! (xfinitylive.com). The entertainment complex offers six different venues, including Victory Beer Hall, Broad Street Bullies Pub and NBC Sports Arena.

DINE: SALOON RESTAURANT (saloonrestaurant.net) has been serving hearty Italian dishes like eggplant Parmigiano, braicole and veal piccante along with a fine selection of steaks since 1967. Inspired by classic French bistros, BISTROT LA MINETTE (bistrotlaminette.com) offers seasonal dishes made from scratch with a French countryside vibe.
UNIVERSITY CITY/ WEST PHILADELPHIA

A hub for higher education, this neighborhood is home to top universities, including Drexel University and the University of Pennsylvania.

SEE: Embrace Japanese culture at SHOFUSO JAPANESE HOUSE AND GARDEN (japanphilly.org). The serene site includes a traditional 17th-century replica home and a beautifully landscaped garden with a koi fish pond. Explore the priceless archaeological artifacts at the PENN MUSEUM (penn.museum), including Egyptian mummies, African tribal masks and more than 1.200 objects in the newly opened Middle East Galleries.

DO: Catch innovation on stage at THE ANNENBERG CENTER (annenbergcenter.org), a performing arts center at the University of Pennsylvania. Honoring the legacy of early-American botanist John Bartram, BARTRAM’S GARDEN (bartramsgarden.org) is a 45-acre site on the Schuylkill River that includes a botanical garden, wildflower meadow and Bartram’s 18th-century home.

DINE: Sample a wide range of Indian classics at family-owned NEW DELHI INDIAN RESTAURANT (newdelhiweb.com), the city’s oldest Indian eatery. The dining spot features a lunch and dinner buffet with chicken, lamb and vegetarian options, as well as an a la carte menu. Dine on French bistro classics like escargot and steak frites at LOUIE LOUIE (louielouie.restaurant), a modern brasserie with an outdoor patio.

NORTHERN LIBERTIES/ FISHTOWN/ NORTH PHILADELPHIA

Just north of Center City, these diverse neighborhoods are home to eclectic bars and restaurants, microdistilleries and popular live-music venues—plus the entry point for the city’s new Rail Park, a scenic trail that transformed an abandoned railroad viaduct.

SEE: Embark on a literary pilgrimage to the EDGAR ALLAN POE NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE (nps.gov/edal) to see the revered writer’s former home, as well as exhibits dedicated to Poe and his work. Founded in 1855, the WAGNER FREE INSTITUTE OF SCIENCE (wagnerfreeinstitute.org) displays more than 100,000 natural history specimens in a historic building. INSTA-DELPHIA

While LOVE Park, the “Rocky Steps” and Liberty Bell all offer their own Instagram-worthy moments, there are dozens of other photo opportunities throughout Philadelphia. We’ve assembled a few of our favorite locations via this handy guide, each of which are free to access and offer their own unique perspective of the city.

PSST: Don’t forget to tag your photos with #discoverPHL and follow @discover_PHL on Instagram for more photo inspiration.

1. START FROM HERE MURAL

   Found behind the Pennsylvania Convention Center along Race Street, this Mural Arts installation by artist Isaac Tin Wei Lin features hundreds of colorful flags that represent Philadelphia’s diverse immigrant population. The rich colors and pleasing patterns make the mural a great spot for selfies or “Wall Crawl”-style photos.

   Location: 1315 Race Street
   Neighborhood: Convention Center District

2. RACE STREET PIER

   Once a shipping pier, Race Street Pier is now a complete recreational space. The main focal point is a dramatic ramp, which gradually elevates 12 feet into the air as it guides visitors east towards the Delaware River. The pier provides incredible views of the Benjamin Franklin Bridge and the boats that frequently pass up and down the river. It’s also a prime location for early morning sunrise photo shoots.

   Location: Race Street and North Columbus Boulevard
   Neighborhood: Waterfront/Historic District

#discoverPHL
QUINCE STREET
Located in the Washington Square West neighborhood, Quince Street is a narrow, quiet, residential street complete with cobblestones and charming homes. Enter from Locust Street to capture an incredible vanishing-point photo, but don’t be afraid to navigate further down the street to uncover more of Philadelphia’s historical charm.

Location: From Walnut to Lombard street between 11th and 12th streets
Neighborhood: Washington Square West

SPRING GARDEN STREET BRIDGE
A short walk from the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Spring Garden Street Bridge offers some of the best unobstructed views of the Philadelphia skyline via its southern sidewalk. If you wake up early enough, you can even catch the sunrise behind the city skyline from this position.

Location: Adjacent to the Philadelphia Museum of Art crossing over the Schuylkill River
Neighborhood: Between Parkway Museums and University City Districts

CIRA GREEN
What may appear to be an average parking garage from street level is actually home to an elevated greenspace on the roof. The 1.25-acre park regularly hosts public events and is the perfect place for a photo shoot with the skyline as the backdrop. Time it right and you can even capture incredible sunset photos while on the park.

Location: 80 South 30th Street
Neighborhood: University City District

WEAVE BRIDGE
Tucked away amongst the sports fields on the University of Pennsylvania campus, this pedestrian bridge offers a unique, futuristic design, which presents varying angular shadows throughout the day—perfect for portrait sessions or creating minimalistic images. Head to the eastern opening for an uncompromised view of the Philadelphia skyline.

Location: Penn Park facilities on the University of Pennsylvania campus
Neighborhood: University City District
For more than 40 years, Derrick Pitts has been making astronomy accessible to people of all ages with his ability to explain the universe as he sees it. The chief astronomer at THE FRANKLIN INSTITUTE—and NASA Solar System Ambassador—shares fun facts about one of the oldest and premier centers of science education in the U.S., where “everybody in the family has the opportunity to have a great hands-on experience with science and technology.”

- The Franklin Institute has a piece of moon rock that was collected on Aug. 2, 1971, by astronaut David Scott. It was the last rock collected during the Apollo 15 mission and was the largest sample of the 170 pounds of rocks Scott and his crew members brought back from the moon. See it in the Space Command exhibit.

- The Bloom Observatory—located on the roof of the museum—has a historic Zeiss Refractor, built using fabrication techniques that circumvented restrictions placed on German manufacturing as a result of WWI. The only other one like it in the U.S. is at the Griffith Observatory in Los Angeles.

- The Franklin Institute’s observatory is the only one on the East Coast with a facility as large as ours or as accessible to the general public as ours.

Visit the observatory during the day or at night for monthly stargazing events with Derrick Pitts. Check out the view of Philadelphia’s skyline from the top of The Franklin Institute on page 96. fi.edu

The region offers plenty of family-friendly theme parks, zoos and aquariums to thrill any age. Here are a few to check out with the family.

Sesame Place
For more local theme parks, visit discoverPHL.com/themeparks.

Rides and amusements, the park recently refreshed its “neighborhood” to celebrate the show’s 50 years. Don’t miss photo ops with characters and an all-new live show with Elmo, Abby and Big Bird. BONUS: Sesame Place is the first theme park in the world to be designated as a Certified Autism Center. sesameplace.com

Crayola Experience
Kids can color their world at the CRAYOLA EXPERIENCE in Easton, Pennsylvania, about an hour from Center City. The crayon-inspired experience has a variety of arts and crafts, including centers where you can melt crayons into sculptures, create spin art designs and make and name your own crayons. New in 2019 is Silly Selfies, where kids can transform photos of themselves into robot unicorns, rockstar parrots and more. crayolaexperience.com

Philadelphia Zoo
For more local theme parks, visit discoverPHL.com/themeparks.

The PHILADELPHIA ZOO, America’s first, offers visitors the chance to see animals from a new perspective thanks to Zoo360, a network of elevated pathways where lions, apes and more can roam above the park. Other child-favorites abound including a petting zoo, tree house, carousel and free-roaming peacocks. Lego-fanatics will delight in the zoo’s latest exhibit, Creatures of Habitat: A Gazillion Piece Animal Adventure, with life-size brick animals popping up across the park to share the stories of endangered animals. It runs from April 6 – Sept. 30. philadelphiazoo.org

Hershey Park
Make it a day at HERSEYPARK, a sprawling amusement and water park built around the popular chocolate brand. Just two hours from Center City, the entertainment zone includes thrill rides for all ages, more than 200 animals at ZooAmerica, and Chocolate World, with restaurants, shops and a chocolate-factory ride. visitersheyparkharrisburg.org

Adventure Aquarium
Explore the ocean and its inhabitants at ADVENTURE AQUARIUM across the Delaware River on the Camden waterfront. Walk through a glass tunnel as more than 20 sharks swim around you through 550,000 gallons of water, journey to the Amazon through the interactive Piranha Falls exhibit, or spot hippos swimming around in the immersive Hippo Haven. adventureaquarium.com

Sesame Place
Just 30 minutes from Center City in Langhorne, Pennsylvania, SESAME PLACE is the only theme park in the U.S. dedicated to the beloved children’s TV show. Wowing crowds with kid-friendly roller coasters, water rides and amusements, the park recently refreshed its “neighborhood” to celebrate the show’s 50 years. Don’t miss photo ops with characters and an all-new live show with Elmo, Abby and Big Bird. BONUS: Sesame Place is the first theme park in the world to be designated as a Certified Autism Center. sesameplace.com

ANCIENT EGYPT: From Discovery to Display
While Philadelphia boasts a wide range of attractions and activities for all ages and interests, it’s also the perfect starting point for excursions into the surrounding region. Destinations in the greater Philadelphia region, including surrounding counties, New Jersey and Delaware, are often just a one-to-two hour drive from Center City. Whether you’re stopping to smell the flowers in horticultural hotspot Longwood Gardens, sampling sweetness in Hershey’s chocolate capital of the world, hitting the outlets in the surrounding counties, or retracing the footsteps of Revolutionary soldiers in Valley Forge National Historical Park, there’s no shortage of things to do outside Philadelphia’s limits.

Philadelphia’s food scene is booming. From nationally recognized restaurants with award-winning chefs to local favorites, there’s something to excite every palate.

Philadelphia is passionate about food, as evidenced by the dynamic restaurant scene that continues to blossom in the city. Home to some of the country’s most innovative chefs—including two Top Chef winners and two Iron Chefs—our diverse restaurants serve everything from classic American and traditional ethnic foods to experimental fusion dishes that wow the palate. Plus, you’ll find a number of dining options that are BYOB, meaning you can bring your own libations to enjoy with your meal. Of course, Philadelphia eats aren’t strictly gourmet. Home of the cheesesteak and hoagie, the city also boasts countless establishments dishing out comfort food favorites, the memory of which will have you planning a return trip before you’ve even made it home. Check out one (or three or four) of our many local eateries and taste for yourself.

FAMILY-FRIENDLY EATS

Philadelphia’s diverse restaurant scene includes a number of dining spots suitable for the younger set yet delicious enough to impress the grown-ups.

PLEASE MANY PALATES
To satisfy diverse tastes, head to the READING TERMINAL MARKET. Opened in 1893, it’s one of the nation’s oldest continuously operating farmers markets and was named the “best farmers market in the U.S.” in 2019. With a maze of vendors and a bustling energy, the locale is an ideal option for families with wildly diverse appetites, offering everything from Asian and Middle Eastern fare to Pennsylvania Dutch and Philly classics. The market is also home to Dinic’s, whose famed roast pork sandwich was named the Travel Channel’s “Best Sandwich in America.”

MAKE IT A LITTLE SWANKY
Just because kids are in tow doesn’t mean you have to skip establishments from Philadelphia’s acclaimed restaurateurs. The menu at JONES, from James Beard Award winner Stephen Starr, focuses on homestyle classics like tomato soup and grilled cheese, sliced beef brisket and fried chicken. An added bonus, the restaurant is within walking distance of Independence Hall and the historic district. Across town in West Philadelphia, Iron Chef Jose Garces’s taqueria, DISTRITO, promises a festive affair for diners, serving modern Mexican small plates and cool cocktails. The eclectic decor is as big a draw as the menu—including a Volkswagen Beetle booth and hundreds of colorful wrestling masks on the wall.

DIVE INTO COLONIAL HISTORY
Step back in time at the CITY TAVERN in Old City. Established in 1773, the historic restaurant once welcomed the founding fathers as patrons. Today, under the proprietorship of Chef Walter Staib, the fine-dining eatery prepares authentic 18th-century recipes served by a waitstaff in period dress. Younger diners can order off a special children’s menu featuring meat and cheese pie (a colonial version of lasagna), fish and chips (an English classic) and more.

INDULGE IN A LOCAL TREAT
Order a hometown favorite, crab fries, at CHICKIE’S AND PETE’S, a boisterous sports bar in South Philadelphia—voted “Best Sports Bar in North America by ESPN” in 2011. Seasoned with a proprietary blend of spices, the signature side is served with a creamy white cheese sauce and pairs well with the bar’s steamed crabs, mussels and lobster pie. After, head to POPS HOMEMADE WATER ICE for a local dessert: water ice. A smoother style of Italian ice, the chilled treat can be traced back to Italian immigrants like Filippo “Pop” Italiano, who started scooping out water ice from his pushcart in 1932. Today, the walk-up storefront on Oregon Avenue features various flavors of water ice, gelato, soft pretzels and more.

KEEP IT ALL-AMERICAN
Focusing on local, organic and artisanal food and drinks, FARMICIA in Old City is a cozy eatery serving food morning to night. The menu features a few decadent burgers— including the brie-stuffed burger with sautéed mushrooms, caramelized onions and Dijon mayo on a Metropolitan Bakery roll—for adults and a cheeseburger with all the fixings on the kid’s menu.

eat hoagies. get free stuff.

Introducing The Dietz & Watson Real Philly Deli Hoagie Guide. Our Hoagie Guide is the key to every incredible deli and delicious hoagie in town. And get this—when you order hoagies from these delis, you earn prizes. The more delis you visit, the more prizes you earn. So, who’s hungry?

Here’s how it works:

1. Visit realphiladelphia.com to find participating delis, or pick up a guide at a deli near you.
2. Order a hoagie, get a sticker.
3. Enter the code on your sticker at realphiladelphia.com to start earning prizes. Then place your sticker on your guide!
4. Repeat for all 28 delis on the guide. More delis, more free stuff.

Head to realphiladelphia.com for official rules and prizes.
